IGNITION OF COAL DUST AFTER SHOT POORLY TAMPED IS BELIEVED TO BE CAUSE OF LATEST MINING TRAGEDY

Williamson, West Virginia, February 8.—Nine miners were killed and three fatally injured in the workings of the Monetta Coal Company on Pinson Creek, Kentucky, according to word received here today.

Eight bodies had been removed from the wrecked operation at dawn today and workers were slowly digging their way into the debris where other bodies were expected to be found. At least one worker was known to be missing. The explosion occurred when the night shift were going into the mine. Officials believe that a charge was not tamped properly, causing an explosion which ignited coal dust and a bigger blast followed.

Continuation of the road building program. The establishment of the financial stability of the State armory industry. Aid for injured and sick workmen. Carrying out of the school program. Recognition of the ex-soldier group of Pennsylvania. Affiliation of women with existing political parties. One of the features of the Mackey statement is the prediction that Senator William E. Crow will withdraw from the Senatorial race and that all factions will unite behind John A. Bell, Pittsburgh banker, for the place.

Red Men Initiate Big Class, Boosting Their Membership To 638

Chinlelamoose Tribe No. 407 of this city is still forging ahead in membership and now have six hundred and thirty eight members on their rolls. A regular meeting held last evening thirteen pale faces were ceremoniously scalped and smeared with the paint of the warrior and went forth to the big woods to spread the doctrines of patriotism, loyalty and friendship practiced by the order. The local tribe of Red Men are a live bunch and they are working toward a goal of one thousand members which no doubt will be attained before many more moons roll by. The growth has been wonderful so far and a working degree team is helping no little to put the order in the front ranks of Clearfield fraternal organizations. Good fellowship reigns supreme in their councils and the teachings of the I. O. R. M. are indeed a revelation to the initiated. Many people form an erroneous opinion of this organization on seeing them in public parade where they dress in true to life Red Man style. Beneath this garb there beats the heart of the faithful Red Man who reveres the flag and wears the Great Spirit.

Fatality Occurs When Machine Gun Bullets Fly In Ohio Strike

PENNSYLVANIA IS DOING WELL FOR RURAL SCHOOLS

Giving Assistance In Good Cash Sums To Rural Communities
Who Combine Schools.

PAY $200 PER ROOM

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 8.—Pennsylvania is doing more now for the rural education than any other state in the Union according to reports to the Department of Public Instruction.

Special efforts are being made to consolidate the small one room type of country school in central schools of several rooms, more teachers and generally better educational facilities. To encourage this consolidation the state pays $200.00 annually to small schools which are discontinued in order to join a group or consolidated school.

Up to the present time 1701 such schools have been discontinued. These 1071 schools will receive from the state $340,200 to assist them in providing better school facilities for their children. In order to make possible this plan of consolidating rural schools into larger and better equipped units the state pays one-half the cost of transportation of children to consolidated schools. In 1919-20 the state paid $83,972.45 but in 1920-21 paid an increase to $243,480.61 showing how rapidly the transportation and consolidation scheme is going into effect.

In the last two years the Department of Public Instruction has organized 137 consolidated schools in buildings of from 2 to 20 rooms, which provides better housing, enriched curriculum and more effective teaching for the children of rural communities according to educational experts of the department.

In the same period 125 agricultural and 117 home economics schools with 3049 and 1622 students respectively have been organized in the state.

OHIO WILL AGAIN BE BATTLEGROUND OF NATIONAL POLITICS THIS YEAR

By LAWRENCE MARTIN

Washington, Feb. 8. (United Press)—In the office of Senator Pomerene, Ohio, they have an adage. It is this: "You never can tell." Every once in a while just by way of reminding themselves that this is true they go into the files and get out a handsomely engraved invitation. It is a wonderful example of the engravers' art and breathes class. It invites to a reception in honor of Ohio's new senator, Hon. Myron T. Herrick, at the Union Club, Cleveland. The date is away back yonder in 1916.

Now the point of this beautiful invitation to the folks in Pomerene's office is that the reception did not happen, for the simple reason that Herrick was not elected senator. Pomerene was elected instead. Everybody in Ohio—it seemed—thought before election that Herrick had a walkaway. Bets were made after the polls closed on election night, at odds of two to one, that Herrick would be senator.

Which is why Pomerene's friends say "you never can tell" instead of saying that Pomerene will be triumphantly re-elected to the senate next November. Right now they regard him as unbeatable, but they know their Ohio.

Peculiar interest attaches to next November's senatorial contest in Ohio and to the primaries which will precede it because it is President Harding's home state. The Democrats chortled when they elected the Mayor of Marion, Harding's home town last November. They are confident of re-electing Pomerene.

So far no one has appeared to dispute with him the right to the Democratic nomination. He has made a good record in the Senate and his popularity has increased greatly. When Pomerene came to the Senate, folks said he was too cold, too funeral, but he has thawed out a lot since then, and is one of the best liked men in the upper house.

Applying the same rule of "you never can tell," Pomerene's friends are most counting on his having the nomination unopposed. They recall that the last time he ran John J. Leitz stepped in at the eleventh hour to contest with him.

The Republicans, who swept Ohio in the great landslide, have a problem of their own regarding the senatorship. Simeon D. Fess, member of congress, is right now regarded as most likely to get the nomination. Former Senator Theodore E. Burton is trembling on the verge of a statement announcing his candidacy. Burton is now in the house, after a long political retirement. And then there is Harry Davis. Davis got to be governor by reason of the landslide. He has had a meteoric political career, starting with his election as mayor of Cleveland. He said to aspire higher. One day, it is said, he will be a senatorial candidate; then it is said he won't be. Some of his enemies within the Republican party are suggesting that the best way to get rid of Davis would be to nominate him for senator and let Pomerene wallop him. Of course that suggestion is regarded as idle, for the Republicans always have a fighting chance in Ohio in their worst years, and they want Pomerene's place.

With the support of the national administration behind them—President Harding's personal support, that is, and his powerful influence—Ohio Republicans claim they will beat Pomerene. For the sentimental reason that it is Harding's state, and further that in late years it has become one of the pivotal states, Ohio's senatorial contest will be watched with the keenest interest.

Feeling victims of custom.
A woman lived in Vermont once tried the experiment of packing her point on that one only to provoke innumerable protests from the guests against such unbecoming and uncivilized conduct. A few days later the despised fish was again presented under the guise of "mountain trout" when they met with such enthusiastic favor that several men had to be employed for the rest of the season to catch enough of the fish to satisfy the demands of the discriminating guests. These victims of custom would cut trout, but not catfish.

Local differences have resulted in the holding up of the proposed State road which had been scheduled for advertising the first thing this year. It was kept off the first lot of roads advertised for construction, because several local people, seeking personal advantage, had lodged a protest against the agreed-upon route. The route surveyed, and which these objectors protested against would eliminate no less than five grade crossings and is certainly the route that would be the most advantageous to all parties concerned. Local differences should give way to greater public interest and advantage. Let us have that improved road, it will help everybody if built on the present surveyed route.

Of the first thirty Popes, twenty-nine were martyrs, except St. Dionysius, who was the twenty-fifth. The total number of martyred Popes is thirty-three; eighty-two Popes were venerated as saints.

One hundred and four Popes have been Romans; 103 were natives of other parts of Italy, fifteen were Frenchmen, nine were Greeks; seven were Germans; five were Asiatics; three were Africans; three were Spaniards; two were Delmatians, while Palestine, Thrace, Holland, Portugal and England have each furnished one occupant of the Papal chair.

Nine Pontiffs reigned less than one month; thirty less than one year; eleven more than twenty years; six have reigned over 21 years; the longest reign except that of St. Peter, who was in Antioch seven years and in Rome 25 years, 2 months and 7 days, was the reign of Pius IX, who was Pope 31 years, 7 months and 21 days. Leo XIII, who was Pope 25 years and 5 months.

Including the late Pontiff, Benedict XV, there have been only nine Popes since the foundation of the American republic, the longest series of reigns since the foundation of the church. Benedict XV was the two hundred and sixtieth Pope.

An increase of more than 85,000 communicants of the Presbyterian church of the United States of America during 1921 is announced by Dr. Lewis Seymour Mudge of Philadelphia, Penna., stated clerk of the church.

Dr. Mudge announced that the number of communicants of the church now exceeds 1,700,000. This he announced, is a gain of more than 35,000 over last year. The church also has more than 1,400,000 Sunday School members.

Contributions during last year, Dr. Mudge said, exceeded $47,000,000, of which more than $4,200,000 was spent for foreign missions, $3,701,000 for Home Missions and more than $1,000,000 for education.

The Presbyterian Church has 9,979 ministers of the Gospel.

The Unicorn.
The unicorn which assists the lion in upholding the British Royal coat of arms bears the reputation of being entirely mythical. Noble Thoughts and Poems.
When you have thought something fine and beautiful, go a little further and put it into fine action. Noble thoughts which do not inspire to noble living are the most hopeless of shams. And the noblest poems are not those which are written, but those which are lived.

NEW BURGESS AT PHILIPSBURG IS TREATIN' 'EM MIGHTY ROUGH

Henry W. Todd, Philipsburg's new burgess, read the riot act to the members of the borough council at the regular monthly meeting Monday night. Holding the councilmen equally responsible with him in backing up the Police department in maintaining law and order, the burgess said: "I want to know how I am to enforce the liquor laws when some of the Councilmen themselves participate in beer parties held in buildings owned by the borough corporation or under control of Council."

Continuing, the Burgess said the police had broken up a beer party in a private business establishment recently, and when the violators were brought before him one of them wanted to know why the beer party held recently by the fire company in the Public building was not disturbed. He said there was no logical reason why the firemen should be privileged to disregard the law. These beer parties have been held by both fire companies from time to time, the Burgess said and he gave warning that they must be stopped and that any person, including Councilmen, who participated in them hereafter, would not be spared if hailed before him.

Officers of both fire companies were present at the meeting and they assured the Burgess that hereafter they would have their co-operation in remedying the condition explained of. It was maintained that in themselves the beer parties were harmless, but it was admitted they furnished opportunity for drinking stronger liquors and regrettably that had been the case sometimes. Burgess Todd's position was not questioned, however. The Hope company Chief Zeitler said, had already taken action against the beer parties, and Homer Sunderland of the Reliance Fire Company said that organization had already expelled several members for drinking at company headquarters and would take similar action against other members if found guilty. Drinking within the building he said was prohibited by the by-laws of the company.

The Burgess stated that notwithstanding standing reports to the contrary, he has so far found both the day and night policemen anxious and willing to perform their duties and when one councilman made an effort to have their salaries reduced the Burgess said that in his opinion that would be unwise. He said that Chief Brink and Night Policeman Gill were experienced and dependable in emergencies and that while men might be secured at lower salaries, the service also was likely to be cheaper. Such men, the Burgess said would be likely to abandon the Police jobs at the first opportunity to secure more desirable employment. The present salaries will stand.

A UNION OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Healthy Housewife---Happy Home

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Helped Form Many

For the ailing, half-sick housewife such a union is impossible. Often times even the slightest form of housework cannot be accomplished. Yet the work must be done. Many women struggle along for years suffering from some form of female trouble that makes their lives miserable and their homes far from happy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped thousands of just such women regain their health and strength. Just give your thought to the following letters and remember that the women who wrote these letters knew how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound and again afterwards. It helped them—let it help you.

Had Nervous Spells

Horatio, Ark.—"I had nervous spells and awful bad feelings. My right side and my back hurt me all the time and I had been going down in health for six or seven years. For three years I had not been able to do my work without help. I weighed only 95 pounds when my husband's mother persuaded me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Now I heartily recommend it to all suffering women, as I have gained weight and health. I can do all my work, anything I want to do."—Mrs. JIM REARICK, Horatio, Arkansas.

Recommend the Vegetable Compound

New Orleans, La.—"I have found relief from my troubles by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I praise it wherever I go. I could not do my work as it should be done for I would sometimes have to lie down because of the pains I had. A friend induced me to take your Vegetable Compound and I have got great results from it. I keep house and am able to do all my own work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to mine."—Mrs. T. FOSBER, 1915 N. Derbigny St., New Orleans, La.

Although the season is not yet open there are a great many fisher-men on the banks of Political Creek.

The prediction that Crow will not be a candidate for the U. S. Senate appears to have been made by Mr. Mackey supplementary to his statement given out for publication.

"State Republican leaders will be solidly behind Senator William E. Crow if he seeks the nomination in the May primaries," Harry A. Mackey, who today outlined his platform as a candidate for Governor, told the United Press. "I know nothing of Senator Crow's physical condition," Mr. Mackey said. "If he is well enough to be a candidate I find that he will be supported. In the event he is not a candidate it seems to be the opinion generally that all factions will unite behind John A. Bell, Pittsburgh banker, for the place." Mackey was in conference with Bell and other Republican leaders here today.

A reader sent this worthwhile contribution to the cause of better business: "Let's tighten our belts and get on our feet, quit 'woofing' and meaning about our woes; lift up our chins—unwrinkle our brows—forget the past and attend to the now. Good business won't come—we've got to go get it; the outlook will brighten if groaners will let it. If we've nothing but sorrow to offer our trade, our debts'll keep growing and never get paid. Unpaid bills gum up the spark plugs of business. Let's clean 'em up and get hitting on all sixes."

An error crept into our report of the opinion and decree handed down by Judge Bell yesterday morning in the case of Commonwealth vs. Frank Wasick, alias Shultz, of Decatur ship, in which case O'Laughlin, Fenerty & Kelley, at-top Wasick, were attempting to have restored to the and liquor seized on the premises at the time violation of the liquor law on a warrant ation made by Sheriff Gorman before

COURT NOTES

Deputy Attorney General W. I. Swoope entered suit in Prothonotary Ralston's office this morning on behalf of Nathan Kauffman of Coalport who is suing Frank Hahn for $1200 for alleged failure to make good on the installation of a heating plant or system in the "New Dixie Theatre" at Coalport, owned by Kauffman.

The plaintiff's statement recites that he entered into a contract with the defendant to install a trane Vapor-heating system in the theatre but that he failed to complete the job on contract and also failed to install sufficient radiation and by reason of that failure the plaintiff lost at least $800 by failure to induce people to use his theatre on cold evenings and the defendant radiation also entailed an additional loss to him of $400 making up the $1200 sued for.

The blizzard, which was by the side of a passing brook, a striking voice that comes out of the water. The bobolink, who will have no home but a meadow, showers down a cascade of melody that he has caught from the bees humming through a sea of grass or clover-heads. And, in the manner, "Passez dames," as ornithologists call the gray little British sparrow, has tuned his vocal chords to the clatter of hoofs over cobblestones, the roar of the elevated, the whistles and other barbaric sounds.

Nothing impossible. What men have done can still be done and shall be done today.—George Burrow.

True Mahogany.

True mahogany is produced by only two species of trees which are closely related—Swietenia mahagoni Jacq and Swietenia macrophylla King, natives of tropical America. There are various cabinet woods passed off for real mahogany. A bulletin recently published by the department of agriculture named "67 species of 41 genera, and scattered through 15 families of the vegetable kingdom."

Qualified Explanation.

The teacher had asked the children to tell her something about giants when one little boy blurted out: "A giant is 'an awfully great-eph, big big man—' and then a pause and, clearing some one's throat, he blurted in their glibly added: "Da most everybody knows there isn't any!"

A correspondent told us of a wonderful plant, called the "kissing palm," which has the curious and sometimes embarrassing effect of kissing all persons who come near it with an irresistible desire to kiss each other. "It is not a bit of good trying to resist its power," he says: "you simply must kiss everybody near you, regardless of age, sex or looks." A dangerous plant this—not at all the kind of thing to have in a respectable house.

Left-Handedness

At least one human being in fifty is left-handed. This is the minimum estimate. Some authorities say four in fifty. W. Franklin Jones declares that 4 per cent of the race are born left-handed, but about three-fourths of these are converted by training into more or less imperfect right-handers. On the other hand, about 1 per cent of the race, though born right-handed, is trained to use the left hand because of accidents to the right.—Scientific American.
